Hi Laura ?

This is moving around Indian Country social media faster than the Moccasin Telegraph!? There is a video, the link below, ? of the incident with Secretary Zinke pointing his finger at the woman who is an activist from PANDOS, not a reporter.? My office has received a few calls from people seeing the posts and complaining about the Secretary scaring the reporter (not) and commenting how they thought it was unprofessional and too aggressive for him to wave his finger at the young Native woman.?

(b) (5) DPP

Most of the calls are women and are angry but calm down after we talk.? ?I'll keep you posted.? This is the movement of the what the Water Protesters are calling for regarding the new Standing Rock = Bears Ears.? Thanks.

Nedra

Watch and SHARE this video of Secretary of Interior Ryan Zinke respond aggressively to an Indigenous woman (Cassandra Begay) during Bears Ears visit! Straight jabs his finger at her! (1:20 mark)

This took place on Monday (5/9/17) - US Interior Secretary Ryan Zinke visited Bears Ears Monument in Utah to review the use of the Antiquities Act on Bears Ears.

Cassandra Begay with the Native American advocacy organization PANDOS, approached Zinke and asked numerous times why he hasn't met with leaders of the Bear Ears Inter-Tribal Coalition during his visit to Utah. After a few moments the Secretary quickly turned towards Begay, jabbed his finger in her direction and stated, "Be nice, don't be rude."

In response Begay states, "I was scared, and my heart was racing. It felt condescending and unnecessarily aggressive. I have no idea why asking a simple question to somebody who is on a listening tour would react so aggressively." #ProtectBearsEars
